1 PROFESSIONAL OVERVIEW

As a Proficient PPC Campaign Strategist, I design and manage data-driven paid advertising programmes across Amazon Sponsored Ads, Google Ads, and Microsoft Advertising ecosystems. My approach fuses algorithmic bid management with granular audience segmentation to deliver measurable improvements in ROAS, conversion rate, and total attributed revenue.

With a disciplined focus on funnel architecture, I construct campaigns that guide prospects from awareness through consideration to conversion—ensuring every advertising dollar works harder at each stage. My command of search term analysis, negative keyword sculpting, and bid modifier optimisation translates complex platform data into clear, profitable outcomes for product-based and service-based businesses alike.

3 PROFESSIONAL STRATEGY & WORK APPROACH

Structured Campaign Launch Protocol

New campaigns begin with auto-targeting discovery phases to harvest converting search terms before migrating to tightly structured manual campaigns—minimising wasted spend during the learning period.

Continuous Bid Sculpting

Bids are reviewed on a defined cadence: daily for high-spend campaigns, weekly for mid-tier, and bi-weekly for long-tail. Placement bid modifiers are adjusted based on top-of-search versus product page performance data.

Funnel-Based Budget Allocation

Budget is distributed strategically across awareness (broad/auto), consideration (phrase/SB), and conversion (exact/SD retargeting) campaigns to maintain healthy pipeline flow without cannibalising organic rank.

Competitive Intelligence Integration

Competitor conquering campaigns are built using ASIN and category targeting, capturing purchase intent from comparable product pages at optimal cost-per-click thresholds.
